HONERINE IS INSPECTED-MAM-MOTH SHIPPING.

A message from camp Wednesday Mammoth evening brought the information to May Day Ontario ... Manager C. H. Doolittle that a large portion of the workings of the Dixie F opper mine, belonging to the Utah & Eastern company, had caved and that S nearly 200 feet of the new double-com- Sta partment and manway shaft had been S. Swan

The news was telephoned from the U.S. Mining 29.50 mine to Acoma, on the line of the San Pedro, and from there telegraphed to Manager Doolittle here. The message was necessarily brief and was forwarded only after a preliminary examination had been made to determine sometion had been made to determine someting of the arount of damager damage.

shape to do well. The new shart went into commission on the 29th of April, and since that time a nice volume of ore has been going to the smelter and the shipment of bullion to the eastern refineries had commenced. What the result of the cave upon the future action of the company will be Mr. Dootinto was not in a position to say. He little was not in a position to say. He hopes, of course, that it will not prove as serious as would appear from first glance, but owing to the nature of the nine and the proximity of many of the that it will not prove a very seriou number of the directors of the tors of the city, inspected that famous old Stockton bonanza on Wednesday. The party, which was headed by Charles H. Scheu, included Thomas Weir, James McGregor, George A. Black, T. Ellis Brown and M. Walker.

Those who came the nearest to being strangers in the property were Messrs. Weir, McGregor and Black, and each of them returned feeling well repaid for his trip. Mr. Weir, manager of the Ajax, was particularly impressed with conditions as he had been at the mine appreciate the changes that had taken place. Questioned on the impression he gained through his visit, Mr. Weir said:

"I don't know that I should say anything about the property. I was there simply as a visitor, and it is not always considered in good taste. I believe, for visitors to talk of what they have seen when calling on a neighbor. However, the Honerine mine looks so well and the one bodies are opponing the section. pletion of the great drain and operat-ling tunnel, production will be very heavy. The tunnel has been advancing looks as though an ore body might be broken into at any moment. There is no question that the Honerine is a great mine, but it is not for me to talk of it other than in general terms.

MAMMOTH SHIPPING AGAIN.

About 300 Tons of Ore Reached the Sampler Yesterday.

Three lots of ore from the Mammoth. lots containing approximately 100 tons each, reached the sampler yesterday morning. Two of the lots contain gold-silver ore, and the other is made up of a fair class of copper rock. These are the first consignments of moment to come from the mine since the close-down over the Wills incident.

down over the Wills incident.

The working force has now been raised to about 135 men and the usual tonnage will be coming to market in future. To make it possible to operate and give plenty of time in which to deal with those whose homes encroach on the mine dumps, or on whose homes the mine dumps encroach, as you like, the tracks have been changed in a direction that will afford dumping ground for at least a year to come without lowing as the ing bother or inconvenience to any-

Shipments to Be Made.

Superintendent C. W. Gillinan of the Bingham-New Haven company's properties in the bonanza camp of Bingham, was in yesterday holding a conference with Manager. C. H. Doolittle and, judging from the attention that was being given machinery and catalogues, it is surmised that hoisting apparatus is to be installed and greater depth in the strong and rich dedges running through the property sought. In fact, the officials acknowledged that much, but neither would discuss details of the plans under consideration.

From the mine at the present time from sixty to seventy-five tons of high grade ore per day is being sent to market, while the development of the veins through the tunnel levels is under way. Before another winter sets in the Bingham-New Haven mines will be equipped with an aerial tram, as the snows make teaming a very uncertain proposition in that portion of the camp. However, everything is running smoothly now and teams can handle the output without any trouble every day from now until the first of next year.

Superintendent Gillinan says he has room in the mine for a few good marchine drill men.
